

WINTER'S WORK JUST GOT EASIER

Power through snow days the electric way — and earn cash back with SEI REMC's Electric Outdoor Equipment Rebate.

Cold weather can make outdoor chores a challenge, but going electric makes them easier, cleaner, and more efficient. Whether you're blowing snow, trimming trees, or tackling post-storm cleanup, electric equipment gives you powerful performance without the gas, fumes, or pull cords.

SEI REMC's Electric Outdoor Equipment Rebate rewards members who make the switch to battery-powered or corded tools designed for every season. Electric motors convert more energy into usable power than gas engines, meaning you get strong, reliable performance with less waste. In addition, electric equipment only uses energy when it's running, resulting in no idling, no wasted fuel, and no emissions in your backyard.

These tools are quieter, easier to maintain, and better for the environment and your home's overall energy efficiency. Make your winter work effortless and your savings even brighter. Enjoy cleaner performance, less maintenance, and more power while earning money back for making the switch.
