

SMARTER THERMOSTATS, SMARTER SAVINGS!

Explore two easy ways to save energy and money with SEI REMC.

Smart thermostats help your home use energy more efficiently by automatically adjusting heating and cooling based on your schedule and preferences. When paired with SEI REMC's Smart Thermostat programs, that efficiency turns into real savings — while helping support a more reliable electric system for everyone.

Whether you are looking to upgrade your thermostat or already have one, SEI REMC offers two simple ways to help you save while staying comfortable.

Ecobee Smart Thermostat Program

With SEI REMC's ecobee Smart Thermostat Program, eligible members can receive a free ecobee smart thermostat and start saving right away. The thermostat learns your routine, adjusts temperatures automatically, and helps reduce wasted energy when you are away or asleep.

Once enrolled, your thermostat will participate in occasional energy-saving events during periods of high demand. These small, temporary adjustments help reduce strain on the electric system and lower costs for everyone. Your comfort always comes first, and you can override adjustments at any time through the thermostat or mobile app.

This program is a great option for members who want to upgrade their thermostat, improve comfort, and take advantage of built-in smart features without the upfront cost.

Connect to Save Program

Already have a smart thermostat? SEI REMC's Connect to Save Program allows you to earn rewards by enrolling your existing compatible device.

When you participate, SEI REMC may make small, short-term adjustments to your thermostat during peak energy demand periods. These adjustments help reduce system strain, support grid reliability, and keep energy costs lower across the cooperative. You stay in control and can opt out or override adjustments at any time.

This option is ideal for members who already enjoy smart thermostat technology and want an easy way to turn that technology into savings.

Why It Matters

Both programs are voluntary, easy to join, and designed to benefit you and your community. By participating, you help reduce peak demand, improve energy efficiency, and support a stronger, more reliable electric system for all members.

You save energy. You save money. And together, we make a difference.

Get Started

Visit seiremc.com/smart-thermostats to learn more, check eligibility, and enroll in the option that works best for your home.

Have questions or need help getting started? Our Member Services team is happy to help at 800-737-4111.